ABSTRACT

Simforianus Gadu, 18.75.6444. Examining the Theological Meaning in the Sese Topok Rite at Nonggu, East Manggarai Region. Undergraduate Thesis Program, Catholic Religious Studies Program, Ledalero Catholic Philosophy College, 2022.

This study aims (1) to introduce the rite of Sese Topok (2) to analyze the theological meaning of the Sese Topok rite (3) to investigate the theological meaning of Sese Topok rite in the East Manggarai region.

In this study, the method of this research uses a qualitative method that utilizes the interview. The author collects the data by asking direct questions to several key informants or individuals who have the authority.

This research was conducted in Beka Lando Village, North Kota Komba District, East Manggarai Regency where Tua Adat, Tua Teno, and community leaders with the criteria of 45 years old and over are informants of this research.

The results showed that the rite of sese topok has a very deep theological meaning. The process of implementing this Sese Topok ceremony consists of several ceremonial stages, including: the preparation stage, the agreement in a village, placing the Naga Beo, Barong Boa, Barong Wae, Penti, and Paki Kaba Conko Lokap as the closing ceremony.

At the preparatory stage, a deliberation is held to determine the leader of the ceremony and the animal to be sacrificed in the Sese Topok ceremony. Furthermore, at the stage of the ceremony, several series of events were carried out starting from laying the Naga Beo (protector of the village), Barong Wae (the procession to a spring of water) Barong Boa (inviting the ancestors and all the spirits of the deceased tribe members), Penti as thanksgiving to the highest form and to the ancestors for all the harvests. It is also to ask God's blessing on the place of residence, namely the village, (Berkak Golo Lonto/Beo), blessing for the village yard (Nataslabar), blessing for the place of offerings in the village (Compang), blessing for the place of drinking water (Wae Teku), blessing for a house (Mbaru Kaeng), blessing for a garden (Lingko).

In the final stage or as the closing of the Sese Topok ceremony, several events are held, such as an expression of gratitude to the highest form and ancestral spirits and ending with an inauguration of the status of the garden as a village. The Sese Topok ceremony usually carried out contains very important theological meanings such as the meaning of gratitude, the meaning of solidarity, supplication and humility, unity (communion), the meaning of reconciliation, the meaning of salvation and the meaning of mutual cooperation.
